

SEAN HAYES

AN ACT OF GOD

God comes to Broadway... and his name is SEAN HAYES!

After sold-out performances in Los Angeles and San Francisco, Tony Award® nominee and Emmy Award® winner Sean Hayes (“Will & Grace,” Promises, Promises) brings God to the east coast.

“Sean Hayes is the Funniest Guy in Heaven (and Earth)” – Los Angeles Times

The play is based on the uproarious satirical book, “The Last Testament: A Memoir by God,” by Emmy winner David Javerbaum, former head writer and Executive Producer of The Daily Show With Jon Stewart. Javerbaum, a comedy writer, musical theatre librettist and lyricist, has written the stage adaptation of his book, revising it to accommodate current events. This comedy delves into the modern relationship between God and man with riotous results. With a chance to learn about the mysteries of life from the Almighty himself, rest assured that no one will be safe from God’s fury! Two minor characters play angels—after all, God, too, needs support! Tony winner Joe Mantello (Wicked, I’ll Eat You Last) directs.
