

This compelling new play deals with a mother's hopes for her son, which clash with an educational system rigged against him. An inner-city public high school teacher, the mother is dedicated to her students but desperate to give her son opportunities they will never have. When a controversial event at his private school threatens to get him expelled, his mother must confront not only her son's rage but her own choices as a parent. But will she be able to reach him before a world beyond her control pulls him away?

Written by Dominique Morisseau (Skeleton Crew) and directed by Lileana Blain-Cruz (War at LCT3, Red Speedo), PIPELINE brings a vital conversation to the forefront with intense compassion. Don't miss this poignant story of a mother's struggle to give her son a future—without turning her back on the community that made him who he is.
