Academy Award nominee Rachel McAdams (Spotlight; Mean Girls; The Notebook) makes her Broadway debut in this captivating, poignant and compassionate drama about a single mother confronting an impossible family situation.

Encountering seemingly insurmountable odds, Mary Jane relies on unwavering optimism and humor, along with the wisdom of the women around her who have become a makeshift family, to face each new day. But will inner strength and newfound friendships be enough to see her through?

MARY JANE, written by Pulitzer Prize finalist Amy Herzog (4000 Miles, the recent Tony-nominated adaptation of A Doll's House), is "the most profound of Herzog's many fine plays" (The New York Times), and is directed by the acclaimed Anne Kauffman (The Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window).

"Beautiful and remarkable...Herzog has made theatre that shines."
